Craigend Collection

Famous for their outstanding diversity of pattern, Scottish design duo Timorous Beasties present their third collection with Brintons, Craigend. Named Craigend for not only the road name of the Glasgow Timorous Beasties studio and birth place of the collection, but also inspired by the Old Gaelic word Creag meaning rock.

The collection is inspired by textures and surfaces found on the ground including sand dunes, stone moss and aerial views of landscapes, all reimagined in Brintons special blend of 80% wool and 20% nylon. With Craigend, Timorous Beasties have called upon their fascination with the often brutal beauty of the natural world as well as taking aesthetic inspiration from different crafting methods including paint, ink and fabric.

Stone Moss & Moss

The inspiration behind Stone Moss & Moss is the surface of ancient stones and trees and the mosses and lichen that thrive there. We wanted to emulate the pathways formed by these self-contained miniature eco-systems that grow under foot. The nickel and malachite colour-ways are inspired by the depths of tones found in mosses.

Shot Moiré & Moiré

The undulating waves of this carpet have been inspired by a moiré fabric; a silk fabric which has been heated and applied with pressure to give it a rippled appearance. Much like the fabric, these all-over tonal patterns create carpets that look almost ribbed in texture and evoke the waves of water. The vibrant green of Samphire makes a striking statement whereas the dark depths of Ink evoke a moody and atmospheric interior. For a more neutral flooring the shades of Silt offer a softer colour palette.

Shoreline & Estuary

Shoreline & Estuary are inspired by the place where the ocean meets the land, emulating the delicate patterns left by the sea as the tide washes over the sand. We worked closely with Brintons on the striking colours of this carpet to give a transparent, multidimensional appearance. Combined with greys, the soft blues of Ocean create a fresh and contemporary colour inspired by the sea, whereas Sand provides a warmer backdrop.

Coast & Shale

Taking an aerial view of the coast line and cliff faces which surround it, Coast & Shale create a contemporary effect; colours are inspired by the deep dark blues of the ocean, soft greys of rocks and the bright algae which grows there. Coast creates a real impact in a corridor space, take a look at our 'Designed to fit' section on page 62 which shows how Brintons can work this into a bespoke corridor space.

This piece is a design that is inspired by topography and maps. We have created an aerial view of a terrain rich in colour and depth. The deep blue-green tones of Lagoon evoke memories of the sea and the tones of Earth are soft and warm while Ash gives a monotone take on the pattern.

This design is inspired by the passion flower, a vine flower with a unique floral structure, winding tendrils and a distinctive corona. Also known as passion vines, Passiflora is a species of plant whose winding tendril vines have inspired the structural texture of Linnaeus. Passiflora on the other hand, features the distinctive flower head of the passion flower growing and winding around a space.

Fallen feathers mingle with thistle from our native Scotland to create a carpet within a carpet and evoke the natural world. One design at two widths, Highland works well in a corridor whereas Highland Field creates a beautiful trim effect in a room; colours are kept neutral and tonal allowing the pattern to speak for itself.

About Timorous Beasties

Founded in 1990 by Alistair McAuley and Paul Simmons, Timorous Beasties design and manufacturing embodies one of the most outstanding modern collections of surface pattern. Their unique skill at transforming the commonplace, and often brutal beauty of the natural world into a profoundly rich diversity of pattern and repeat has firmly established their place in design history.

From the outset, while establishing their own peculiar universe of pattern, Timorous Beasties transformed and redefined classic motifs – damask, toile, Rococo, silhouette – to create what has been successively heralded as modern cult classics: Thistle, Omni Splatt, Euro Damask, London Toile, Urban Chaos, Merian Palm, and Tourmaline, to name but a few. And today, their collections and bespoke designs adorn and furnish both residential and commercial spaces, from interiors to exteriors, using a broad range of techniques and materials: hand-printed and digital wallpapers and fabrics; vinyl, lighting, rugs, ceramics, lace, concrete, stone and metal. Indeed, their work is not just prolific; it has defined an aesthetic era.

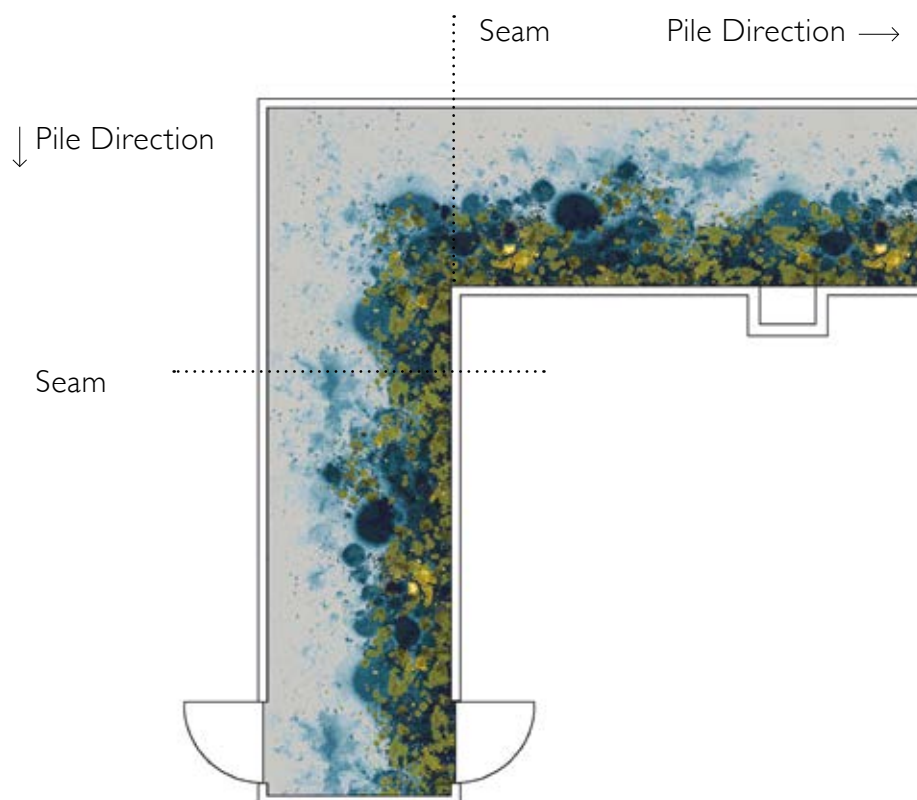

Designed to Fit

Brintons' team of leading designers works closely with client project teams to create designs that meet the needs of individual projects of every size, specification and level of design complexity. Our global design team can rework any of the designs from the Craigend collection, recolouring to suit the interior or rescaling to fit the project criteria. We can design and plan it into challenging areas, minimising seams and wastage to create truly breath-taking installations. The following illustrations give an insight into how these designs can work in a bespoke space.

Whether you are looking for carpet for guest rooms, conference areas, public space or corridors, we are sure that you will find something from the Craigend collection to inspire you.
